Brett Beazant Shoots -2, wins Junior Honda Classic by one stroke

Palm Beach Gardens, FL, December 15, 2013: Brett Beazant of Windermere, FL won the Junior Honda Classic on December 15, 2013 by posting a two-under-par (-2) final score after 36 holes and securing the victory by one stroke. Beazant, a full-time student of Mitchell Spearman for the last 18 months is working to one day become a professional golfer.

"Specifically, Mitchell and I have been working on my putting during practice, but even more so we've been discussing how I approach the game mentally and it seems to have really paid off," said Beazant. Beazant hit several solid shots down the stretch to maintain his lead sinking two forty-foot putts for birdie in the final round and managing to fire a shot from the rough to about 20 feet from the pin in order to two-putt for birdie and the win. "I didn't think about winning for most of the tournament, I just kept trying to play my game and hit fairways and greens. There were quite a few very good golfers out on the course during this tournament and I feel fortunate to have played the way I did," said Beazant.

In addition to the Junior Honda Classic Beazant has placed second in both the Future Collegians World Tour at Falcon's Fire Golf Club and the Hurricane Tour Match Play Championship, making up three of his last four events. At the FCWT Beazant narrowly lost in a playoff and missed winning the Hurricane event in the final match. "Brett has really matured as both a player and young man. I was confident he would play well since he's a strong ball striker that can play in a variety of conditions and we've been working on both full-swing and putting. I look forward to helping him develop to his full potential and believe he has the ability to become one of the game's elite" said Spearman.

Mitchell Spearman has appeared on Golf Magazine's "Top 100 Instructors" list since its inception and is known for emphasizing a swing that works for the individual. Mitchell has literally written the book on golf instruction, The AIM of Golf, and provides content to ESPN, Golfing World, Sports Illustrated, Golf Magazine, among others. He is deeply involved in the game of golf through multiple avenues including golf academy operations, junior golf player development, golf instructor training, professional tour player coaching, and broadcasting.
